

“Apron and Stool”

1991 original graphite work by Karen Janovy

Donated by Scott Stuckey

Karen oversees the recruitment, training, and coordination of Sheldon's Docent program, which involves 70 volunteers each year. Karen also is a Senior Lecturer in UNL's Museum Studies program, teaching the history and philosophy of museums. She has served as an instructor for and co-director of the Prairie Visions Summer Institute for Teachers. She is co-editor of the catalog of the Sheldon's painting collection and a forthcoming catalog of its sculpture collection.

Karen was named Museum Art Educator of the Year, and received the Nebraska Museum Association's Hugh H. Genoways Award of Achievement, both in 1999.

Thank you, Scott, for supporting our event, as well as all of our ongoing conservation efforts!
