

“Boundary Waters”
Set of framed prints by Leo Stans
Donated by Scott Stuckey

Leo Stans created these beautiful works of art for the National Parks Artwork Series in 1990. Each limited edition print comes with signature and matching National Parks Stamp and collectors' coins.

Born and raised in Chaska, MN, Leo holds a degree in forestry. An active member of the community, he contributes a portion of his royalties to national and local causes. As a conservationist and outdoorsman, Leo researches the natural habitat of his subjects, photographing wildlife, habitat, and landscapes. His research results in incredible technical detail of his wildlife art. Painting professionally now for over a decade, he has become one of the nation's most celebrated and collected wildlife artists.

Thank you, Scott, for supporting our event, as well as all of our ongoing conservation efforts!
