As a volunteer at Spring Creek Prairie Audubon Center, your personal conduct is vital to creating a fun, friendly, equitable, and educational experience for all who visit and work here. To facilitate this atmosphere, this Code of Conduct and Volunteer Agreement has been established. “Just as biodiversity strengthens natural systems, the diversity of human experience strengthens our conservation efforts for the benefit of nature and all human beings. Audubon staff and volunteers must represent and reflect that human diversity, embracing it in all the communities where we work, in order to achieve our conservation goals. As an Audubon volunteer, you are dedicated to fostering an inclusive, communal environment that prioritizes fairness and respect and brings us together as a caring community of people who are inspired by birds and want to protect them. We respect the individuality of each member of our community, and are committed to an environment free of any kind of discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, disability, national or ethnic origin, politics, or veteran status.”
